Labor Plans "House Cleaning" To Purge Communists In Canadian Unions

By John LeBlanc

OTTAWA, March 17, (CP)—A drive to oust Communists from high offices in Canadian unions appeared in prospect today in the wake of J. A. (Pat) Sullivan's week-end disclosures of Communist influence in the labor movement.

SULLIVAN, having resigned from the presidency of the Canadian Seamen's Union, remained in hiding. He said he feared for his life after splitting with the Communist party and levelling charges of union domination against it.

But labor sources here said his action probably would touch off widespread measures against this alleged domination since it had smoked into the open specific instances of claimed Red control.

While charges of Communist power in some unions are not new to Canada, Sullivan's 10-year membership in the Communist party gave heavy impact to his statements.

ANY PURGING done in the unions, it appeared, would be from within their own ranks. This view held here was confirmed by C. H. Millard of Toronto, Canadian director of the United Steel Works of America (CCL), who said Sullivan's move was "an indication that labor will clean its own house."

Meanwhile, mystery continued to shroud the person of the 30-year-old Irishman who jolted Canadian labor by his public disavowal of Communism and resignations from the presidency of the CSU (TLC), which he claims is Red-controlled, and from the secretary-treasurer ship of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

FORMER ASSOCIATES of Sullivan in the Congress—who received without warning his resignation in a messenger-delivered letter Saturday morning—tried unsuccessfully over the week-end to get in touch with him, while newspaper men sought him all over the Ottawa area without result.

Officers of the Congress, who accepted his resignation, made no comment publicly on Sullivan's actions. Percy R. Bengough, Congress president, might make a statement in the next day or so, it was said.

It was learned the labor leader's public blast against CSU officers did not come as a complete surprise to that organization. Sullivan had sent the CSU executive a letter complaining of dissatisfaction with actions of the executive members.

For Statement

Sullivan Both Lauded, Rapped

Depending on their individual viewpoints, spokesmen for Canadian Labor today ranged all the way from condemnation to approval of the abrupt Ottawa actions of J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, who announced his resignation from men's union, from the Communist party from the Trades and Labor Congress and bitterly condemned Communists for infiltration into union ranks.

FROM THE C.S.U. itself Harry Davis of Montreal, signing himself "acting president," said a membership meeting would be called at which the issue of Sullivan will be dealt with by the seamen themselves.

Davis called Sullivan's action "a betrayal of the trade union movement."

T. C. McManus, national secretary of the CSU, said at Montreal that Sullivan's "red-baiting" can only injure the trade union movement.

Ashes Sifted Into Stream at Munich

Reveal How Bodies of Goering, Executed Nazis Were Disposed Of

By Clinton B. Conger

FRANKFURT, March 17, (BUP)—The bodies of Herman Goering and his 10 fellow Nazi leaders were cremated on the day of the mass execution last Oct. 16 and the ashes were sifted into a stream at Munich—birthplace of the Nazi party.

Thus, for these 11 topflight Nazis at least, the road ended where it began after a cataclysmic cycle of destruction.

Five months and a day after the Nuremberg executions and suicide of Goering, the United Press was able to reveal how the bodies were disposed of.

The U.S. Army had dropped a curtain over the events following the Nuremberg hangings. It had sought to preclude any possibility of furnishing a "shrine" for any Nazi fanatics who now or in the future might worship at the place where their idols last rested.

Now the word has come that photographs of the dispersal of the Nazi ashes are being offered for sale in the United States. And so the secret, unveiled by United Press correspondents in four German cities after weeks of checking no longer is a secret.

In the Ostfriedhof area of East Munich is a German civilian cemetery and a gray stone building 40 feet wide and 80 feet long. It is as high as a three-story house, and is surrounded by a six-foot stone wall which contains the chapel. In the basement is a gas oven for cremation.

Eleven bodies were cremated there last Oct. 16. This is reported to be the only crematorium now operating in Bavaria. Bodies some times accumulate in backlogs of as many as 40 or 50 in the basement, the attendants say.

An American officer arrived at 5 a.m. of the day the Nazis were hanged soon after midnight at Nuremberg. He told the attendants that trucks would arrive at 7 a.m. with the bodies of 11 American

New Policy Affects Barley and Oats

OTTAWA, March 17, (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced today in the Commons that price ceilings on barley and oats are being raised, effective tomorrow, to stimulate production of these urgently-needed feed grains. He also announced that the Canadian Wheat Board is being made the sole exporter of oats and barley in Canada.

He announced these changes in policy affecting oats and barley:

1. Effective tomorrow, the system of advance equalization payments will be discontinued and the wheat board will stand ready to buy all oats and barley offered it at new support prices which will remain in effect until July 31, 1948.

These prices will be based on 90 cents a bushel for No. 1 feed barley in place of the present support price of 56 cents and 61½ cents for No. 1 feed oats against the present support price of 40 cents. Other grades at appropriate differentials will be fixed by the board from time to time. The prices are on the basis of feed in store at Fort William or Port Arthur.

2. At the same time, price ceilings for all grades will be raised, in the case of barley to 83 and in the case of oats to 65 cents, basis in store Fort William, Port Arthur or Vancouver. The ceiling prices correspond with the support prices for the highest grades of barley and oats.

3. To avoid discrimination against producers who already have delivered barley during the present crop year, an adjustment payment of 10 cents a bushel will be made on deliveries to date, thus raising overall returns to about 90 cents.

4. TO AVOID the "fortuitous" profits to commercial holders of oats and barley that otherwise would result, handlers and dealers will be required to sell to the wheat board on the basis of existing ceilings of 64½ cents for barley and 51½ cents for oats all stocks in their possession at midnight tonight.

5. For the time being, because of the continuation of price ceilings on animal products, payment of 10 cents a bushel for oats and 25 cents a bushel for barley will be made with the same conditions as the 20-cent payment of wheat purchased for feeding purposes.

6. THE WHEAT BOARD, either directly or through agents, will become the sole exporter of oats and barley. Any exports by the board will be from grain acquired by the board under the price support plan and the net profits therefrom will be paid into equalization accounts for the benefit of producers.

7. For the time being, because of the continuation of price ceilings on animal products, payment of 10 cents a bushel for oats and 25 cents a bushel for barley will be made with the same conditions as the 20-cent payment of wheat purchased for feeding purposes.

'Mother' of West Soldiers Visits at Grande Prairie

GRANDE PRAIRIE—An interesting visitor to Grande Prairie recently was Mrs. A. Sampson of Penzance, Cornwall, England who was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Card for a week.

Mrs. Sampson had a large and comfortable home in Penzance, the little seaside town of Gilbert and Sullivan opera fame, not far from the storied village of St. Ives and Land's End. A short, friendly woman with graying hair, she was "mother" to about 300 servicemen from every part of the British Empire and the United States who were stationed in nearby camps.

Open to Servicemen
Her home was always open to them although, like the rest of England's homes during the war, she had no domestic help. She herself had a war job, the weaving of rope protectors for the large naval shells which she did in her own home. But in spite of all this she found time to take the "boys" on long walks or by bus to beautiful and historic spots in the vicinity so that their journey would be happy and memorable.

Then the war was over and the "boys" returned home across the sea. Missing them Mrs. Sampson decided to go on leave herself and visit as many of them as she could, at least in North America.

Crossed United States
She flew to Sweden, took passage on the war-famous Gripsholm and arrived in New York early in January. From there she crossed the United States by rail, visiting at the homes of the delighted ex-servicemen whom she had mothered

Mrs. W. C. McIntosh read a statement setting out in detail the health program carried out by the school board under the supervision of Dr. M. B. Graham. Others taking part in the program were Mrs. M. E. Grandlund, R. O. Wilson, Harold Brulehart and Peggy Galbraith.

15-Year Grudge Ends in Killing

ELIZABETH CITY, March 17.—(AP)—An elderly landowner who had carried a grudge for 15 years killed Judge C. Everett Thompson, 65, last night and then committed suicide, Police Chief Walter Spence said. Spence identified the slayer as George Pritchard, about 70, who, he said, considered all lawyers here his enemies.

Thompson was killed as he sat reading with his wife in the living room of their home here. He was sitting about a foot from the window when, Spence said, Pritchard pressed a shotgun against the screen and fired.

Women as well as men fought in gladiatorial combats in ancient times in Rome.

Speaks at KC Banquet

Archbishop Warns Headway Made by "Russian Colossus"

Sounding a call for a strong resurgence of fervor in the work of the Roman Catholic Church, Most Reverend J. H. MacDonald, Archbishop of Edmonton, speaking at the Knights of Columbus 40th anniversary initiation banquet Sunday evening warned an audience of 400 that "the Russian colossus is making progress that is very, very rapid everywhere while we on the other hand are losing ground because of our apathy."

THE BANQUET in the Macdonald hotel followed the initiation earlier in the day of about 100 new members of the Knights of Columbus into the Edmonton Council No. 1184. Toastmaster and chairman was Leo F. Killoran, grand knight of the council.

The archbishop declared some forms of the apathy were in the political field in that adherents were expressing fears that forthright statements from the Vatican "would antagonize Stalin."

He assured his listeners that the policies of the Vatican were based on the power of beneficent wisdom and that faith and courage in the tenets of the church were never more greatly needed in action than at the present time.

"There is nothing like military power in the power of the Pope," he said.

Forty-eight countries are represented at the Vatican today, said the archbishop. "Two very well known countries are not—Russia, for reasons you know very well; and Canada, for reasons that are less well known," he declared.

CANADA WOULD HAVE a delegate to the Vatican if she were represented as an independent nation—"upon which we are always priding ourselves," Archbishop MacDonald went on.

At no time in history has the influence of the Holy See and Vatican been greater than under guidance of the present Pope—Pius XII—and the previous five popes, he said.

In congratulating the new members upon their joining the Knights of Columbus, Archbishop MacDonald paid tribute to the work of the order, pointing out that in their calling as lay ambassadors of the faith there were great responsibilities.

There was no doubt that the work of the order here would grow in quality, quantity and influence, the archbishop said.

He stressed particularly the need of "action" in extending the influence of the church, and of bringing back into active participation catholic church members "who for one reason or another are a little bit indifferent to the practice of their religion."

"WE CANNOT EXPECT to save our own souls unless we go into action and help bring them back into the practice of their faith," he said, adding the conviction that the day is fast approaching when the Bible and the catholic church will be the only one used by non-catholics.

Other speakers of the banquet included John Burke, advocate of Council 1184, who delivered a toast to the church. Toast to the order was given by A. M. Decheno, deputy grand knight, LaVerendrye Council 1938. This was added to by a brief address from A. T. Klopfer, state deputy for Alberta. To the Crusaders a toast was given by R. A. Cannon, past state deputy. Gordon J. Newton delivered the toast to the ladies.

SPEAKING ON BEHALF of the new members, Peter Gracchuk delivered a brief address. Rev. Fr. J. Chimney, speaking on behalf of St. Joseph's Ukrainian parish ex-

Sullivan

denied that fact. I want to say however that I have never conducted subversive activities nor has this union since I have been in the leadership."

MEETINGS OF Seamen's union locals at Halifax and Saint John passed resolutions urging that Sullivan "be expelled as a traitor to his own union and to the labor movement as a whole."

Against these reactions was the statement of James Sullivan, president of the London, Ont., Trades and Labor Council (AFL) that labor would welcome Sullivan's action as bringing the question of Communist activity into the open. "Pat has always been loyal to labor," he said.

Oliver Hodges, London representative of the Ontario CCF labor committee, said "Sullivan's decision to make his break with the Communist party is all to the good of the trade union movement."

ANOTHER GROUP was bitter in condemnation of Sullivan. It included J. B. Salsberg, labor secretary of the Labor-Progressive party and member of the Ontario legislature, who said Sullivan "has betrayed the trade union movement in the face of mounting dissatisfaction with his incompetence as a labor leader."

Salsberg's statement at Toronto Sunday said that "I had arranged to see him last Saturday to inform him that because he had not changed, we would disassociate ourselves from him. Sensing this show-down, on Friday he rushed into the ranks of labor's enemies. 'The LPP always tries to unite, strengthen and build trade unions on the basis of inner democracy. He helped to organize the CSU and borrowed money to help their strikes'."

A. A. McCLEOD, another Labor-Progressive member of the Ontario Legislature said at Toronto that he thought the statements issued by Sullivan and by Igor Gouzenko, the Russian embassy cipher clerk who was a leading crown witness in the espionage trials, were written by the same man, and he suggested the author was inspector John Leopold of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, long reported one of the RCMP's agents.

Suggestion that Sullivan was not the sole author of the 2,000 word statement issued over Sullivan's name at Ottawa Saturday was also made by Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress.

MR. BENGOUGH said "I know tended appreciation for having been included into the membership of the Knights of Columbus."

Among vocal selections heard by the large gathering was Prologue to Pagliacci, sung by Rev. Leo Greene, diocesan director of music. Mrs. Marie Adkisson sang I Love Life. Mrs. Imelda Olsen was accompanist.

Dinner music was provided by Rod Cook, R. Patzig and Arthur Fleming.

Sullivan's phraseology and the style of the statement is not his. He added however that he was not suggesting that the statement had not been approved by Sullivan before its issuance.

These were other comments: C. H. Millard, Canadian director of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) at Toronto: "Sullivan's resignation and denunciation of communist activities is proof that labor can clean its own house without any advice from those who tend to smear it. It is no secret that the Communist party attempts to dominate unions, but it is also true that they have met with very little success."

GEORGE BURT, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers (CIO): "The Sullivan charges do not apply to the UAW. Our union will resist the control or domination by any party, whether it be Labor-Progressive, CCF, Liberal, Conservative or anything else . . ."

Communists

in doing things without consulting him as president and, he claimed, in spending money without authorization.

THERE WERE NO indications Sullivan's move would evoke any measures from the labor department whose minister, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, told a Quebec labor delegation only last week it was up to unions themselves to cleanse themselves of Reds.

Industrial Tieup Said Plan of Reds

VICTORIA, March 17.—(CP)—J. A. Hicks, former executive member of the Canadian Seamen's Union, claims today that communist elements in trades unions scheduled a tie-up of virtually all Canadian industry this spring.

WITHOUT ELABORATION, the 24-year-old merchant seaman said the strike had been foiled and that he was making a detailed report on communist activities to federal authorities.

Hicks, a native of Windsor, Ont., now resides at Esquimalt, B.C. his wife and child are living in Winnipeg.

Asserting that the resignation of J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, head of the Canadian Seamen's Union came as no surprise to him, Mr. Hicks charged that the C.S.U. was "dominated by communistic elements and that these elements were using underhanded methods and underworld characters, including criminals to incite worker against worker and veteran against veteran."

"DETAILS OF THE Communist planned industrial tie-up in Canada will be submitted to authorities at Ottawa this week," he said. He declined to elaborate on the remark. "I am not saying any more about that until I have submitted the details to Ottawa."

West Virginia was the first state in which rural mail delivery service was provided.

A Free Country

The Women's Musical club of Calgary has asked the city council there to refuse (or use its influence in securing refusal) of licenses to hotels which deny admission to colored ladies and gentlemen artists.

It is certainly not feasible to ask the licensing authority to withhold a license from a hotel because it follows a policy of its own making which is not contrary to law. Nevertheless, it is almost unbelievable that a color line is being built up in this democracy, whose boast has ever been that it makes no distinction between races and religions.

But don't think this only happens in Calgary. Don't think it hasn't happened in Edmonton.

Agreed that many of our leading hotels rely for patronage upon U.S. visitors who, in their own country, take such discrimination as a matter of course. These tourists are very welcome, but must we import "the color line" to make them feel at home? Will they not be better impressed if the Canada they see is the free country that Canadians want it to be?

An Election Substitute

There is a shooting war under way down in Paraguay, with some chance that the government of President Morinigo may get the worst of it. The trouble started when an infantry division in the northern province rebelled. Government forces were sent to suppress the rising, but the outcome became uncertain when the "Chaco garrison" joined the rebels. The "garrison" is composed of troops stationed in El Chaco to hold the part of that disputed territory remaining in Paraguayan control after the last bout with Bolivia.

The Government attributed the outbreak to communists, which may be correct, though this is rather the traditional way of explaining any anti-movement in a South American republic. As the Chaco territory borders Bolivia and also Argentina, it is entirely possible that outsiders from one or other of these states were instigators or aides. And since Argentina became an asylum for fugitive Nazi agents chased out of the other countries in the continent, these, rather than Communists, may be the outside fomenters of disturbance.

Political affairs in Paraguay have been relatively quiet for some time. This may have something to do with the eruption. It seems to be a rule in the southern half of this hemisphere that political quietude can continue for only so long. All the states there have democratic constitutions—but also they have ways of their own of changing governments.

It's a pity some of those 10-foot snow banks can't be kept as souvenirs.

Now when people talk about the "last war" we need to inquire, "Which last one?"

The experiences of recent months has shown there are three things to put out before going to bed—the milk bottle, the cat and the cigarette.

There is a movement afoot to make it an offence to drive a car even slightly under the influence of liquor. Quite right too. Some flivvers just can't take it.

Radio columnists, we are told, must listen to most of the stuff that comes over the air. The ensuing madness presumably will be listed amongst occupational diseases.

An English court heard how an erring husband cut his finger in trying to open his young son's bank. But what a giggle little Jimmy must have got every time he looked at that bandaged finger.

English railway roadbeds are now being cleared of snow by hot air throwers. The CPR will be glad their tracks pass so close to the Edmonton legislative building.

Not Taking Chances

Prime Minister Attlee has put a conscription bill before parliament. It proposes universal compulsory military service. Under its provisions every fit male at eighteen years of age will be required to spend seven years in the armed forces, a year and a half on full-time duty and five and a half years in the reserves.

It is estimated that over a five-year period 1,004,000 young men will thus be taken into the armed forces and trained. Only coal miners and conscientious objectors are to be excused, and these will be compelled to put in a corresponding or a greater number of years in mining or other vital industrial work.

If this seems to show something less than a hundred per cent confidence that the United Nations organization is a sufficient safeguard of national security, that doubt is shared by almost every other government of a great power in the European area. France and Russia are not abandoning compulsory service and placing their fate in the hands of the U.N.O., either.

At the outset this bill is given a five-year time limit. The hope apparently is that by that time some dependable scheme of international disarmament will have been adopted. Otherwise, the implication is, the compulsory service plan will be extended.

It is fortunate that the bill is brought in by a Labor Government. Had it been proposed by a government of any other type, it would be condemned in some quarters at home as "reactionary", and in some quarters abroad as provocative or threatening. Since a Socialist premier is the author, these "leftist" catch-words are not likely to be applied, and if applied can get no serious attention.

The obvious point is that Britain does not intend to drop its defences unless and until other countries do the same.

THE TIMID SOUL

Canada's Futile Kick

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

Leaders of all political parties in Canada's parliament have protested at the peace making freeze-out. Canada had a very large share, they truly say, in fighting and winning the Second World War. Hence Canada, and other countries like her, should have a place at the Moscow peace table.

Canada's spokesmen might just as well save their breath. They are wasting their time.

The realities of world power politics are not "fights" of nations, but actual power and position. That is why only the four big powers really count in making peace with Germany. That is why the line-up will be quite different when it comes to making peace for Japan.

CANADIANS ARE slow to learn the lesson that the doctrine of "equal status" for nations is just plain bunk.

Canada rightly fought a constitutional battle to win "equal status". Canadians insisted that Canadian affairs should be decided by elected Canadians; that no Government, sent from England, should have any more right to tilt the political scales than the King has in Britain.

But that victory was not as substantial as it looked.

Newfoundland, which was one of the British Dominions to win theoretical "equal status", went into a tailspin when the depression came along. Before she knew it she had not only lost her "equal status", she had actually lost her democratic government and was taken over by British bankers' agents much like any bankrupt company.

Nor did Canada and the other Dominions fare better. We were, and still are, part of the British kingdom. The really decisive policies of that kingdom were made in London. Scores of thousands of Canadians were killed in a totally unnecessary second world war which was the direct result of unwise Big Power politics—in prevention of which Canadians were completely ineffective.

THERE WERE TWO paths that the British Empire could have taken at the beginning of this century. One was towards more and more local independence—towards more separate national sovereignties. The other was to have built up world democracy on the basis of a central elected parliament—on the basis of one citizen, one vote.

There were many reasons why British and Dominion leaders would not take the second course. It was a half a century too late now to voice vain regrets.

My point is that Canadians, and Australians, will not fare any better when they have to deal with three Big Powers than they did when our struggle was with one.

The irony of our Canadian Prime Minister's great career is that he completely won his fight, on paper, for "equal status" with Britain. But his successor will have the job of trying to keep ANY rights, let alone equal status—in the developing struggle between our titanic neighbors, the United States and Russia.

Nations are not, cannot be, and OUGHT not to be equal. It is the human being who has the equal right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Unless the world is organized to give the citizen equal rights, Big Powers will continue to run the whole show.

Catholic district and hold religious exercises in the streets, and a riot developed, they might be held responsible. If their presence gave a magistrate or constable cause to believe that a disturbance of the peace would result he could order them to disperse. But he could only do so if he could not prevent, or believed he could not prevent, the meeting from being broken up.

CONSIDER the case of the Jehovah's Witnesses in the Province of Quebec. There several hundreds of this sect have been arrested for distributing religious literature without having a municipal license. The members of the sect contend that they are missionaries and that this by-law infringes their rights to practice their religion.

Under the British North America Act, the provinces have the exclusive right to issue licenses "in order to the raising of revenue for provincial local or municipal purposes." Almost every important municipality in Canada has its license bylaw for raising revenue.

The passage of this by-law obviously is well within the power of the municipalities of Quebec.

In order to establish their case the Witnesses would have to show that the by-law was not in fact passed to raise revenue, that it was for some other purpose. Municipal by-laws, hence, can be used, with complete legality, to infringe what we regard as fundamental rights of citizens.

But if Jehovah's Witnesses believe that it is their right to proselytize their faith with the maximum vigor, they are in error. They can do so only so long as they do not infringe upon the rights of others. If any missionary of any faith persistently annoys a citizen in his home, the citizen can throw him off his property, bodily, and is protected by law if he does no more than "reasonable force."

If the householder cannot do it, he can call on his neighbors for help and the law will also be on their side. If the trespasser resists, the law, section 61 of the Criminal Code, deems him guilty of committing an assault.

SIMILARLY, the right of religious missionaries to use the streets is narrowly limited. In addition to the Criminal Code provincial laws and municipal by-laws severely restrict the use that can be made of streets and highways. The Salvation Army is free to conduct a meeting on a street corner, but it is only free to do so if it does not impede the prior right of other citizens to use the street for coming and going. If a crowd of sufficient size gathers so that passage on street or sidewalk is blocked, a police constable may order the meeting to cease.

If the constable should order hecklers away from the meeting it would not be because of any right of those conducting the meeting to free expression of religious belief. It would be to preserve peace, which is the primary function of the police.

IN QUEBEC, there have been cases where the police have not been zealous in protecting Jehovah's Witnesses in the holding of peaceful meetings. But the offences committed by the hoodlums who broke up these meetings were not punishable as violations of the religious rights of the Witnesses. They were punishable as violation of the criminal code. The offence would have been the same, if the offenders had broken up a social gathering of a lodge or a trades union.

Throughout most of Canada so high a degree of tolerance exists that there is general freedom of religion. Because it does not exist to the same extent in parts of Canada the support of the ideas of a bill of rights has increased. But the freedom of religion we enjoy and value, springs largely from custom. How to translate custom founded on tolerance into a code of statute law is the main problem of any drafter of a Bill of Rights.

Call for Gable

Chicago Daily News

Clark Gable, as quoted from Hollywood, gets $6,000 a week salary. He says he pays out almost 90 percent in taxes, 10 percent to his agent, 2 1/2 percent to his business manager, and in addition must hire a secretary and housekeeper.

That's something over 102 1/2 percent of what he takes in. Still he remains solvent, and manages to have a place to sleep, to eat, to wear good clothes, visit night clubs and travel around.

Gable is wasted in Hollywood. He should be drafted at once to run the finances of the country. With him to show us how, taxes wouldn't matter and the government could keep on shoveling out money with both hands.

Newspaper Trouble

Notice to Subscribers to the London Times Weekly: The Times, London, Feb. 19, 1947.

—We deeply regret that, owing to the shortage of coal in Great Britain and the need for the most strict economy in the use of fuel and power by industry, we have been requested by the Government to suspend publication of the Times Weekly Edition for at least two weeks.

We intend to resume publication at the earliest possible moment and all subscriptions will be extended or credited to make up for the editions which we are unable temporarily to send to you.

Varsity Veterans

By HARPER PROWSE, MLA

Probably the best investment the people of Canada have ever been asked to make is the $165 millions they will spend providing university training for veterans. Although this represents a considerable outlay in cash for taxpayers at the Dominion at the present time they will begin reaping the benefits as the veterans graduate and start making contributions in the business and professional life of our country.

In the first place, because of this training the majority of these veterans, within a reasonable time after graduation, will be earning incomes far above the level they would have been able to get as untrained and unqualified men on the general labor market. This means that the taxes will be considerably higher. By being in higher income brackets they will have repaid into the Dominion treasury within ten years more than the cost of their education. And from then on they will be making additional contributions in the form of taxes which can be considered as a "return on the investment." On the average the difference, during their lifetimes, between the total amount of taxes they would have paid as untrained men and the taxes they will pay as trained men will amount to four or five times the cost of their present training.

THIS IN ITSELF should be enough to justify the expenditure, but it is only the smallest part of the story. At the present time 700 veterans are training to be doctors. Nobody needs to be told just how great is the demand for qualified medical men today. Our doctors, practically without exception, are being literally worked to death and still they are unable to provide all the service we require. These veterans will help to relieve the present shortage and will be able to bring medical attention to thousands who otherwise would not be able to receive it.

The same applies to dentists and there are 322 veterans now training in this necessary and worthy profession. Another 239 are training in veterinary science and no farmer needs to be told how much this will mean in this country where livestock raising is a major industry.

ALL OF US KNOW that in this machine age of ours we need all the scientists and engineers we can train. Today in Canadian universities there are 7,514 veterans registered in science and engineering courses. Business, too, is crying for trained men and this demand will be met at least to some extent by the 2,113 veterans studying for commerce degrees.

Altogether we have approximately 31,000 veterans studying in our universities, receiving training which will enable them to fill a serious gap in our present supply of trained man-power and to make a mighty contribution to the welfare and prosperity of our Dominion.

As Others See Us

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

If I were an Englishman or a Frenchman I would not love the people of North America. This, I know would be very wrong after all that America has done for foreigners.

I am a coal miner in Yorkshire, say. Or a clock in Paris. Or I grow bulbs in Holland. Every day I get up hungry — not starving but never with the feeling that I had eaten enough. Every night I go to bed thinking about food. My house, if I have one, is cold. I have hardly enough fuel to cook with and the power is turned off half the time. My clothes are shabby and should have been thrown away long ago. My children need new shoes and dental attention and more milk. I know their health is being permanently damaged. My old mother and father can't keep warm.

EVERY DAY I listen to the radio broadcasts from America, or occasionally I see an American magazine or read the speeches of American statesmen. What do I find out about the people of America?

Here they are, the people of North America boasting in every newspaper and in every parliamentary debate that they are richer than anybody else has ever been, that their living standards have broken all records, that their national production is going up every year, that they have one automobile for every three persons and presently will have two in every family; that they drink orange juice for breakfast and are consuming more meat than ever before.

SO I DECIDE to go to North America. There must be plenty of room in a place like Canada, I say, for a man who is ready to work hard. There are untold resources awaiting human labor and every extra man who can produce wealth must be an asset to this country. Therefore, I think, the Canadians will want men like me.

But when I apply at the immigration office I am told that Canada doesn't want people. Canada fears immigration. Against the simplest facts of economics it fears that new people will reduce its wealth. I go to the American immigration office and I am told the same thing. North Americans, it appears, don't like human beings.

This I could endure if it were stated frankly that they don't care whether I eat or starve. But instead the Americans tell me on every radio program and in every newspaper that they love me, that they are determined to save and rescue me from my foolish ideas and ancient views.

THE BLESSINGS of American civilization are to be forced upon me whether I want them or not. I am to receive these priceless treasures so long as I stay where I am and make no trouble, so long as I agree that Americans are better in every way than I am, so long as I accept the American way of doing business and don't expect American markets for my goods.

It is all very wrong. No people in history have ever done so much for foreigners.

I realize that without the friendship of the Americans and their unequalled genius to get things done, there will be no hope for the recovery of my country, no chance for my children.

Yes, I know all that in my head. In my speech I am careful to tell the North Americans that they are wonderful. But in my heart I do not love them.

Nurses From N.B.

Saint John Telegraph Journal

It is a little ironic to think that New Brunswick, of all places, should be harassed by a continuous shortage of nurses. Because we feel quite certain that this province produces more nurses, in proportion to its population, than any other part of Canada (unless, possibly, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island are running about even with us). New Brunswick young women not only provide their own hospitals with student nurses but also fill a large part of the student enrolment of the big hospitals in larger Canadian cities.

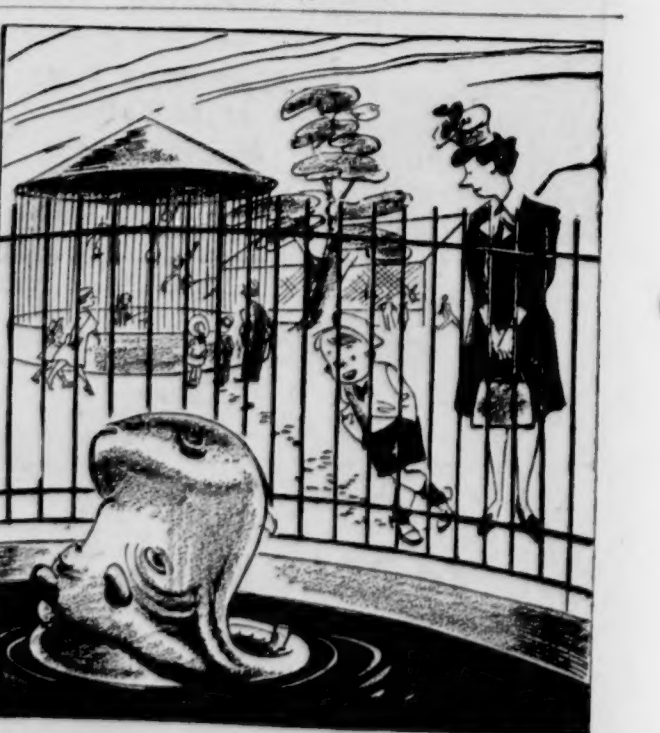

A patient in the Montreal General Hospital or Royal Victoria Hospital gets the impression that nearly half of the student nurses hail from the Atlantic Provinces. New Brunswick girls are to be found training in Toronto and even in the far West.

Before the war, too, hundreds of New Brunswick girls trained in the hospitals of Maine, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and other New England States.

Bill of Rights Political "Drug"

"Make this the last time you fool the people" W. J. Williams (Vet.—Edmonton) pleaded with the government as he closed his speech in the budget debate Friday night. He was referring to the Bill of Rights which he called just another dose of "political penicillin" from the result of which the people still were walking around in a pleasant daze.

"WHEN YOU are elected again as you probably will be, since democracy is very blind," Mr. Williams assured the treasury benches, "you might do away with the Social Credit board."

Mr. Williams also talked of the increased cost of education to the city of Edmonton and turning to department of health estimates, he deplored the fact that increases were not sufficiently great in that department to take care of the overcrowded conditions in provincial mental hospitals, which he had mentioned in his Throne Speech debate.

Red Cross Holds Several Messages

The Edmonton branch, Canadian Red Cross society, 606 Tegner Building, is holding messages for five persons. ### Alberta Hogs Are Equal of Danish

Alberta hogs can meet competition from Danish or other sources, Hon. D. B. MacMillan, minister of agriculture, told the Legislature, Friday afternoon during the budget debate, as he urged farmers to increase hog production to a reasonable degree.

THE MINISTER thought that Canada would retain a greater part of the British market than it held before the war.

A number of third year students in veterinary science at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph will be brought to Alberta to practice under veterinarians, Mr. MacMillan announced. They would help ease the situation in regard to the shortage of competent veterinarians, he thought.

FORAGE SEED grains to the value of $165,000 had been distributed during the year, Mr. MacMillan said, as he dealt with various branches of his department.

He revealed that there were 31,950 brands in good standing in the province's livestock industry.

Company Plans Wider Interests

Possibilities in extending their company's interest to the field of housing mortgages in Edmonton, Northern Alberta and Yellowknife was one of the subjects under discussion here Saturday between officials of the Crown Life Insurance Company.

HERE ON A western business visit to his agencies was E. J. S. Brown, Toronto, assistant general manager and manager of agencies for the Crown Life. He is accompanied by F. W. Small, Calgary, provincial manager. Both are guests at the Macdonald hotel.

Mr. Brown said his company held great many Alberta bonds but for a considerable number of years they had not touched the mortgage field in this province.

"WE ARE QUITE interested in the mortgage end of business in Western Canada and we are doing quite a bit of mortgage business in British Columbia and Manitoba," said Mr. Brown.

Asked what effect the extension of government social services has had on insurance sales, Mr. Brown said there was an increasing consciousness on the part of both individuals and companies toward the desirability of life insurance, pensions bonds, group insurance and employee pension plans.

SINCE THE end of the war his company has increased its agency force by 25 per cent, practically all of this increase being veterans of the Second World War, said Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown will leave Sunday for Vancouver and Seattle.

Points for Parents

Mother: "I follow you girls around turning lights out after you all the time. Aren't you ever going to take any responsibility, or realize that lights cost money?"

Mother: "Let's agree upon a reasonable amount for our light bill. Then you girls may take month about and have any money you can save from that sum."

There are better teaching methods than scolding and deploring.

THE THINGS THAT MONEY CAN'T BUY

HEALTH; A HAPPY HOME; opportunity for your children; your own peace of mind—these are priceless gifts. You can't buy them with money.

But reasonable financial security, based on a planned programme of personal saving, can help to guard and guarantee them.

Take your Victory Bonds, for example. Pretty reassuring to have them tucked away as a financial reserve, always "on tap" in time of opportunity or need. Pretty convincing proof, too, that you really can save when there's a real saving job to be done.

Perhaps today's rising costs or other factors are making it hard for you to carry on your savings programme. By the time you have met all your expenses, perhaps there's mighty little left for that all-important item marked "Savings".

Try putting savings first, not last, on your budget list. One yourself a definite amount each month, and make sure you collect it. It means careful budgeting, and putting off buying a good many things you'd like to have. But never forget—this is your share of what you earn. This is the part of your income which will help to assure for yourself and your family all the things that money can't buy.

PERHAPS YOU are already one of the hundreds of thousands of thrifty Canadians who have a savings account with the Royal Bank. If not, we invite you to come in and open one. Perhaps your first deposit will have to be small, don't let that worry you. The important thing is to start. It will be a pleasure to serve you.

Varsity Golden Bears Take Alberta Title

Beat Union Jacks By Score 72-48 For Two Straight

University of Alberta Golden Bears added the Alberta senior men's basketball title to their western intercollegiate honors which they won recently, when they raced to a 72-48 victory over Raymond Union Jacks at Varsity drill hall Saturday afternoon.

Bears had won the first game of the best of three series on Friday night 49-46 and so take the provincial championship in two straight. Raymond, however, will represent Alberta in the Dominion play-downs in view of the fact that final examinations will be commencing at the university within a few days.

THE GOLDEN BEARS won Saturday by piling up a handsome margin in the first half, with Bill Rich alone shovelling in points at a faster pace than the entire Raymond team during the early stages. Rich scored 27 points, all told, but he potted in 12 in the first quarter, four more than all the Jacks collected and he followed with eight more in the second as compared to Raymond's nine. Bill counted five more in the third and two in the fourth.

BILL PRICE was next high for Varsity with 15, the same as Glen Mickelson and Renn Mitchell, the two top men for the Jacks.

Varsity's marksmanship was much superior to that of the visitors for they scored on 32 out of 75 chances, while the Jacks obviously off their form of the previous evening during the first half of the game, counted on only 18 out of 68 shots.

THE SMALLER but speedier Varsity quintet lost no time in building up a substantial lead for they finished the first quarter on top 22-8, Jim Macrae and Bill Price supplying eight points and Boyd Overholfer a pair to go along with Rich's 12.

Renn Mitchell and Fred Turner evenly divided the Raymond points each getting four, the high-scoring Mickelson being held pointless.

MICKELSON did get through for six in the second quarter, Turner contributing two and Nalder one for a total of nine as compared to Varsity's 20, scored by Macrae 4, Don Steeg 2, Price 4, Bill Erickson 2 and Rich 8, leaving the count 42-17 in favor of the Bears at half time.

The teams split even in the third quarter both securing 14 points and Jacks eked out a 17-16 advantage in the final session.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 17-(AP)—Portland Eagles unleashed a three-goal attack in the final period here last night to win the first game of the Pacific Coast Hockey League northern division playoff from the Seattle Ironmen, 4-2.

The high-scoring Portland front line turned the trick early in the third period, Ed Coleman batting in a goal that tied the score at 2-all after one minute and Jim Planché pushing in the winning counter at 6:35. In each case it was a fast-passing, three-man rush on the Seattle goal.

A near capacity crowd of 3,400 saw Portland take the initial lead of Bill Kyle's goal from close in at 14:45 of the first period.

British Soccer Season Extended

LONDON, March 17 (Reuters)—Britain's soccer season was extended to June 14 by a decision reached Sunday at a joint conference here of representatives of the football association and league.

The extension to be ratified by the F.A. Council at its next meeting April 11 will "safeguard the competitive element of the game and meet the wishes of the government to abolish midweek sports," spokesmen said.

Thompson Retires As Canuck Coach

VANCOUVER, March 17—(CP)—Paul Thompson, former National Hockey League star and one time coach of the Chicago Black Hawks, announced during the week-end that he was retiring as coach of the Vancouver Canucks of the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

School Tournament Has Exciting Ending

Sixth annual city school boxing and wrestling tournament, biggest and probably the best of the six, wound up Saturday night with a thrilling card highlighted by four exciting school matches that sent the 1,500 fans who jammed Westglen gym home well pleased.

Saturday night's show was the fourth of the three-day tournament that started last Thursday. A 10-bout elementary school boxing and wrestling card was held on Saturday afternoon.

TWO OF THE FOUR high school boxing bouts Saturday night were rated as upsets with Alan McDonald of Victoria scoring probably the biggest surprise by out-pointing sturdy Doug Swail of Seona in a three-round bout for light-heavyweight title.

Swail, who has won a number of championships in school boxing tournaments, held his own for the first round, but McDonald, who had a longer reach, began to use it to advantage in the second and was easily the best boxer in the third.

THE OTHER BOUT termed as an upset was the lightweight final won by George Davis of Seona who out-pointed Jim Ego, well known city amateur boxer from St. Joseph's. The decision was unanimous although Davis never could relax for a second during the three rounds of furious fighting.

It was the third bout in a many nights for Ego and the second in two nights for Davis, who scored the only knockout of the tournament Friday night by stopping Bill Gow in less than a minute. The Ego-Davis battle Saturday was one of the best of the tournament.

The other two high-school finals Saturday night also produced some real exciting slugging in addition to aggressive boxing. Bob Saddy of Victoria won the welterweight crown by taking the decision from Bill McLean, Seona and Alex Romaniuk won a split victory over Venor Calhoun of University high for the middleweight championship.

Following are Saturday's results with each winner Saturday night becoming a title-holder:

Ramsey's 420 Top Game

Edmonton's Bowlers Dominate Tournament

Edmonton's bowlers completely dominated the annual Five Pin Bowling Association tournament, which came to a successful close here Saturday night with a dance at the USO Hall in honor of the visitors.

Leaders in every event were Edmonton representatives, but a few Calgaryans and Dawson Creek players turned in sufficiently good scores to get into the prize list.

Wett Ramsey turned in the "hot-test" game of the tourney with a 420 score, while the honor of rolling the best three-game total went to Eddie Oberg, who carved out a fifty-988.

THE FINAL DAY brought only two changes among the leaders. The Agriculture "H" quiet rolling into first place in the ladies' booster team event with 2,761, and Lucan and Bazuk moving to the front in the C doubles with 1,116.

Dawson Creek players let it be known they didn't come down just for the ride. Johnstone and Patrick finished well up in the A doubles, Dalzell and Roberts were second in the B doubles and the Alcons were runners-up in the B teams competition.

NORMAN NORD'S 882 early in the week was good enough to take the A singles, while Floyd Page held second spot with 878. A couple of Calgary sharpshooters, W. Rogers and O. Pallin, occupied third and fourth places with 829 and 854, respectively.

Sobkow and Crockett carried off the A doubles crown with 1,740, while the Screwwalls cornered the A teams event with 3,989.

THE TOURNEY was run off with clock-like precision by manager Vic Balho, who was one of the busiest men in the city during the past week. The success of the event was also due to a lot of hard work on the part of Jack Edwards, Mamie McNabb, Grace Forbes, May Smith, who organized the tournament dance, and a number of bowlers who acted as scorers.

Following are the champions and other prize-winners.

"A" Singles — Nord 882; F. Page 878; W. Rogers (Cal.) 859; O. Pallin 854.

Canadiens, Rangers Stage Savage Brawl

NEW YORK, March 17, (CP)—Montreal Canadiens clinched their fourth straight National Hockey League title here last night, topping New York Rangers 4-3 in a savage brawl before 15,925 fans at Madison Square Garden.

Victory assured Canadiens of finishing on top regardless of the outcome of their remaining three games.

The wild battle broke loose after defenseman Ken Reardon of Canadiens was injured by right wing Bryan Hextall of the Rangers. As Reardon was helped from the ice with blood dripping from his mouth, a spectator sitting behind the Ranger bench made some unpleasant remarks and Reardon leaped at him. In a moment about 20 players of both teams were battling. The Canadiens surged into the Ranger bench on mass and began swinging sticks and fists at spectators and Rangers alike.

THE FIGHT WENT ON for 10 minutes with Bill Juzda of the Rangers getting a terrific working over.

Maurice Richard, Juzda and Chamberlain drew misconduct penalties.

The battle climaxed a hot struggle which virtually eliminated the Rangers from the playoffs. With the New Yorkers trailing the fourth place Detroit Red Wings by three points and with only three games left, the Rangers were desperate for victory.

They were ahead at one point but a third-period goal by Jim Peters won the game for Canadiens and broke a long lasting 3-3 tie.

TROUBLE STARTED early when George Allen of Montreal and Hextall tangled in the first period and Richard clashed numerous times.

Little Buddy O'Connor was the top man of the winners, scoring twice and getting one assist.

Last night's pier six brawl was the first full scale fight seen in New York for years. The surprising thing about the fight was the slowness with which Garden police responded. Half the Montreal team was into the Ranger box and swinging hard before the first cop showed up. No city police were on hand to stop the riot.

RICHARD WAS IN the centre of things from the start. The flashy Montreal right wing took a beating all night from the Ranger defence and fought back hard. Bill Moe of Rangers, sidelined with an injury, was in on the battle.

Reardon had a number of stitches taken in his upper lip. Another casualty was Grant Warwick who fell heavily after being checked by Billy Reid in the second period. He went off with a severe charley horse.

FIRST PERIOD: 1—Montreal, O'Connor (Richard, Blake) 1:03; 2—New York, Russell (Trudell) 5:05; 3—New York, Demarco (Watson) 17:27. Penalties—Allen, Hextall, Richard.

SECOND PERIOD: 4—Montreal, O'Connor (Bouchard) 3:25; 5—Montreal, Blake (O'Connor, Reardon) 11:06; 6—New York, Laprade (Warwick, Laycoe) 13:18. Penalties—Juzda.

THIRD PERIOD: 7—Montreal, Peters (Modell, Chamberlain) 16:35. Penalties—Trudell, Reardon, Richard (misconduct), Juzda (misconduct), Chamberlain (misconduct).

O'Connor's Lone Goal Gives Montreal Win

MONTREAL, March 17 (CP)—Montreal Canadiens blighted New York Rangers hopes for making the Stanley Cup playoffs as Buddy O'Connor's second period goal here Saturday night gave the Montrealers a 4-3 win before a crowd of 11,965. That left the Broadway blues temporarily three points behind Detroit Red Wings in the race for the fourth and last spot in National Hockey League play.

FIRST PERIOD: Scoring—none. Penalties—none. SECOND PERIOD: 1—Montreal, O'Connor (Blake) 10:33. Penalty—Lamoureux. THIRD PERIOD: Scoring—none. Penalties—Bouchard, Laycoe.

Well Balanced Chorus

CNRA Glee Club Scores Hit In Inaugural Appearance

Organized last autumn the Canadian National Recreation Association Glee Club gave its first public concert in Central United Church Friday night. There was a large and enthusiastic audience, which showed its appreciation of the excellent work of the club by extending warm applause at the end of each song, or group of works.

THE CHORUS, including some experienced singers and some, less experienced but possessed of fine voices, gave a performance that would have done credit to a group that had been together for a longer period.

The tone quality was pure; intonation commendable while the balance between the different sections was well preserved throughout. Future appearances will be watched and listened to with interest.

Included among the choral numbers were Carmen, Wilson; As Torrents in Summer, Elgar; Go in Home, Dvorak; Kentucky Babe, Giesbe; Lassie O' Mine, Walt; Deep in My Heart, Romberg; O No John, Thiman.

W. J. ANGUS, baritone, sang The Trumpeter, Dix; Ould Doctor McGinn, Lohr. It was good to hear him as a soloist again after an extended term in the army. W. H. Smith, tenor, sang Still as the Night, Bohm and Danny Boy in the artistic manner expected of him. Messrs. Smith and Angus sang Tenor and Baritone, Wilson and Watchman What of the Night.

Thelma Rice, soprano was heard to good advantage in Romance, Romberg and The Night Has a Thousand Eyes, Hageman, while Egon Grapentin, violinist, with Mary Drummond at the piano, played Schubert's Ave Maria and Monty's Tardis in splendid fashion. Frances Kitchen, pianist and Peter Delicate, organist, combined to play Handel's Largo and Saint-Saens' The Swan.

W. H. Smith conducted the glee club in splendid style, obtaining some memorable effects and proving that he is a capable conductor and that he has a first class group of singers under his direction.

E. G. Skelding, superintendent of transportation was chairman. Those taking part were:

Sopranos: Misses Isabelle Barr, Margaret Emond, Ruth Hyndman, Margaret Keep, Eileen McCready, Rosemary Fulk, Nancy O'Brien, Thelma Rice, Muriel Richardson, Catherine Lammie, Mrs. Joyce Burkett, Mrs. Anne Carmichael, Mrs. Mable Chadwick, Mrs. Jean Ross, Mrs. Margaret Saul, Mrs. Betty Smith, Mrs. Margaret Barnes, Mrs. Henry Briggs, Mrs. William Rankin, Mrs. Elsie Wright.

Tenors: Messrs. Norman Corness, Alex T. Gray, Harry Hughes, Colin Millar, George Parkington.

Table Syrups Go Off Ration List

OTTAWA, March 17.—(CP)—Table syrups come off the ration list Monday, the Prices Board announced last night, and the move will mean Canadian housewives will be able to stretch their sugar coupons further.

UNDER RATION controls since September, 1940, corn syrup, cane syrup and blended table syrups now are freed because ample supplies of corn have become available this season. Price ceilings on the syrups will remain unchanged.

Board officials said that supplies of cane syrup, which is made from sugar, will not increase materially since the amount of sugar allocated to the manufacturers of this product will remain under control. However, cane and corn syrups are interchangeable for most purposes and thus are both being removed from rationing.

Stalin Keeps Eye On Moscow Parley

MOSCOW, March 17.—(CP)—In an office behind the turretted battlements of the centuries-old Kremlin, Prime Minister Stalin follows every step of the conference of foreign ministers.

A DIRECT telephone line links him with Foreign Minister Molotov's room in Aviation House four miles away where the conference is being held.

In other buildings in downtown Moscow the other eight members of the Politburo, who with Stalin and Molotov are the real leaders of Russia, have offices and there can be fast liaison with them by the Russians at the conference table.

Sometimes there is deliberate stalling at the conference but on many issues where the Soviet delegates are in doubt as to the Politburo line or require more information they simply make a phone call to some member of this 10-man super-cabinet.

Arson Suspected In $50,000 Blaze

HAMILTON, March 17.—(CP)—Damage estimated at more than $50,000 was caused by a fire which early today swept through Hess street public school. Police and fire department officials said later they suspected the fire was of incendiary origin. Thieves had entered the school at the week-end and ransacked all the rooms.

MEMBER OF UNDERGROUND: Pretty Lucienne Johnson, Belgian wife of Neil Johnson, London, Ont., may now safely tell of her terrifying experiences with the underground when her native land was helpless in Hitler's grasp. She began underground work at the age of 14, when she aided a friend in eluding the Nazi.

Million Sheep Lost in Britain

LONDON, March 17.—(CP)—Britain's farmers went sadly through the hills yesterday knowing that coming thaws will reveal hundreds of thousands of dead sheep the bones of which will be a memorial to blasted hopes of restoring flocks thinned in wartime.

AT LEAST 1,000,000 sheep are estimated dead on the uplands as a result of Britain's worst winter in 66 years. But this estimate may be conservative. Hill farmers say the disaster is the greatest in memory.

The financial loss may be £15,000,000 ($30,000,000) when lambing-season damage is estimated. The effects may be felt for at least seven years and foundation stock may never be replaced. Domestic meat supplies, already short, have suffered another hard blow and the wool clip may be down as much as 70 percent.

RAF aircraft have dropped hay and men have cut through railway snow drifts as high as telegraph wires to speed feed to the hardest-hit areas, but these efforts cannot help all the isolated flocks of hill sheep whose natural hardihood and vigor in seeking food carry them through normal winters.

Want Hoover Relief Director

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(AP)—Fresh Republican proposals arose today that President Truman officially report his Greek-Turkey aid program to the United Nations and designate Herbert Hoover to direct relief activities in the two countries.

AS THE UNITED STATES congress awaited a legislative blueprint on the president's program to spend $400,000,000 in bolstering the Mediterranean nations against threats of Communism, members awaited with mounting interest the imminent return of Paul Porter from his economic mission to Greece and of Ambassador Lincoln Macveagh and Edwin C. Wilson from Athens and Ankara, respectively.

It appeared likely Macveagh and Wilson would be invited to testify in line with the growing congressional desire for all possible information behind the historic American foreign policy shift.

128 Sask. Co-eds Under Quarantine

SASKATOON, March 17.—(CP)—One hundred and twenty co-eds in Saskatchewan Hall, women's residence at the University of Saskatchewan, were quarantined indefinitely Saturday after discovery of what may be a case of spinal meningitis.

Dr. R. J. MacKay, university physician, said that the quarantine is a precautionary measure and its length depends upon final diagnosis of the case under observation. Only the ground-floor offices in the residence are open to the public.

Those of the co-eds who had Saturday night dates cancelled them by calling to their boy friends from upstairs windows.

Expect Fireworks CCF "Rights Bill"

REGINA, March 17.—(CP)—Attorney-General J. W. Corman of Saskatchewan anticipates fireworks when he explains details of the CCF government's "bill of rights" aimed at providing "real protection to civil liberties" and expected to be presented for second reading in the legislature Monday.

HIGHLIGHT of the bill, piloted by the 56-year-old native of Stony Creek, Ont., is provision for maximum penalty of a $500 fine and six months in jail for offences of discrimination against persons or classes because of class, race, creed, religion or national origin "in respect of certain defined fields of activity." Minimum fine would be $25.

The five-man Liberal opposition in the 55-seat legislature is expected to be spearheaded in criticism of the bill by Alan Embury, 40-year-old armed forces representative for the Mediterranean area.

East Coal Strike Is "Up to Ottawa"

GLACE BAY, N.S., March 17.—(CP)—Freeman Jenkins, District 26 president of the United Mine Workers (C.I.O.), said last night that "any fair-minded person" would agree that settlement of the month-old Maritime coal strike was "in the hands of the federal cabinet." He was commenting on a statement in the Commons by Labor Minister Mitchell, Friday, that to ask disputants to the capital for another conference "would be a waste of time unless there is a joint request." He said he had received a request by a delegation representing the Canadian Congress of Labor to call a conference.

Nab 'Chutist

ATHENS, March 17.—(AP)—An authoritative Greek source said today that a parachutist in a Bulgarian uniform was captured by Greek troops Saturday near the Bulgarian border. The source said the man was carrying documents apparently intended for the Communist party in Greece.

Santos-Dumont, a Brazilian, won 100,000 francs in 1901 by encircling the Eiffel Tower in a steerable balloon.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney

One of the most popular players at the Winter Carnival Tournament at St. Paul, Minn., was Peter Leventritt of New York. He has a genial smile, is always glad to discuss bridge hands, and can be counted upon to put on a good show for the kibitzers.

Leventritt played today's hand at St. Paul in the open pair championship, which he won with Charles Groden. At rubber bridge one would say there was no problem to this hand—declarer simply loses a spade and a club—but here is the way Leventritt played it. Instead of opening the ace of spades, West led the eight of hearts. Leventritt won with the ace, led the eight of diamonds and went right up with dummy's ace. East signalled boldly with the seven of diamonds.

Desiring to show East that he was out of diamonds, Leventritt led a small diamond from dummy and trumped it with the jack of hearts. He overtook the seven of hearts with dummy's nine-spot and led the diamond queen. East was not going to let him get away with that—so he put on the king. Leventritt trumped and West's jack fell.

Now declarer led a small trump to dummy, and discarded his two spades on the ten and six of diamonds. Feeling certain that West had the king of clubs to justify his overcall, Leventritt led a small club from dummy, went up with the ace and played back a small club. West won with the jack and tried to cash the ace of spades, but Leventritt trumped, ruffed a small club in dummy, and both the queen of spades and queen of clubs were good. Thus he made six-odd.

MONTREAL (CP)—Ten police-women, the city's first, recently concluded a 28-day training course and will be posted to the juvenile morality squad as their first assignment.

Making plans for the provincial command convention in Edmonton June 8 to 11, S. C. Heckbert, Vermilion, provincial president of the Canadian Legion met with the provincial executive in Edmonton Saturday.

The convention, to which all branches in the province will send delegates, will consider matters of provincial and Dominion importance, and it is expected that many important resolutions will come out of the deliberations.

Sunday, the executive made a grant of $500 to be used for cups for inter-branch competitions in sports.

Conferring with Mr. Heckbert were first vice-president, James Hartley, M.L.A., MacLeod; second vice-president, Harper Prowse, M.L.A.; honorary treasurer, W. R. McLaren, and council representatives, H. E. Tanner and P. W. Smith, Red Deer.

Urges Inquiry Into Hospitals

Resolution urging the setting up of a provincial board to inquire into present-day conditions of mental institutions, was passed at the meeting Sunday at the Memorial Hall of the Montgomery Branch, No. 24, Canadian Legion.

PERCY J. GWYNNE, branch president, was chairman. The resolution dealing with the inquiry was moved by A. M. Allen.

The resolution called upon Premier Ernest Manning to set up immediately a board of inquiry to consist of the provincial president of the Canadian Legion, S. C. Cushing, Calgary, representing labor, and a member of the opposition, preferably Elmer E. Roper, M.L.A., an official of the Red Cross to "investigate in full the mental institutions of the province of Alberta and to report to the Legislative Assembly."

In another resolution, Ben R. Swankey, brought up the matter of the possible increase in freight rates.

This urged the board of transport commissioners to refuse the request of the Canadian Railway Association for a 30 per cent increase in freight rates. It also urged that body "to take all necessary measures to remove the present discrimination against the west in the matter of freight rates, and thus bring western rates down to the level of those in the east."

FIELD GEOLOGY: The University of Alberta is a leader among Canadian universities in producing petroleum geologists. They have remained loyal to their alma mater and have stocked the university with an enviable collection of rock and fossil specimens collected from the US border to the Arctic. Shown in this picture examining a peg model of Turner Valley are Dr. J. A. Allan, head of the department of geology, left, and assistant, Michael Crockett.

Carry Out Intensive Study

This is the first in a series of informative articles about the search for oil in Alberta, which is of special interest because of the recent discovery at Leduc—Editor.

It seems a far cry from an encounter with a brown bear, or a skilled aircraft landing on a narrow stream, or a foothills pack train to the recent Leduc oil discovery, but they were all a part of the "behind the scenes" story of the field geologists whose work must precede the actual drilling for oil.

FIELD GEOLOGISTS have been described as the shock troops of oil exploration. They have ranged through the Rocky foothills from the US border to the shores of the Arctic, and far out across the farmlands of the Alberta and Saskatchewan plains. Eventually they narrow down a search to perhaps a few hundred thousand acres in an area such as Leduc, and recommend it for more intensive study by other experts.

Edmonton has been home to a great many—perhaps most—Canadian petroleum geologists. Alberta is potentially a great oil-producing area, and it is natural that the University of Alberta should attract a great many students interested in developing its oil reserves. They have been more than loyal to their alma mater, and Others elected to the executive of the club are Mrs. Arthur Newcombe, Mrs. Leonard Daws and Mrs. H. E. Rawlinson. Mrs. Alfred Chard and Mrs. S. Dalkin were re-elected. The positions on the executive of vice-president, secretary and treasurer, will be filled at the first meeting of the executive.

MRS. JAMES WALKER sang during the afternoon, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. A. Buchanan.

The preliminary Friday was for 22-year-old Ross D. Turcotte, Vancouver, who was elected to be tried in supreme court, Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., remanded the accused for trial with bail set at $500.

Mrs. Jessie Bauer, Edmonton, the complainant, testified that she had given the accused the articles to store for her. She said he sold some of the articles and has been unable to account for some of the money.

Labor Election Set for Tonight

Delegates to Edmonton's Trades and Labor Council will ballot for the second time this year to elect officers for 1947 when they meet at the Labor Hall Monday night.

THE REGULAR election held in January was declared void by Percy Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, on the ground that delegates from a union not affiliated with the Dominion organization had been permitted to vote. All officers elected were unseated by Mr. Bengough's mandate, and a new election ordered.

Thomas Steele, who was elected president in the January election, is seeking re-election, and other contestants for the presidency are: Alfred Farnilo, J. Flowers, Joseph Cherrington, and Malcolm Ainslie.

NOMINEES for the vice-president include Charles Gilbert, elected in the January election, Edward Hunter, narrowly beaten in that election, A. Mogridge, and Alex Herd.

It is understood that Alfred Farnilo, veteran labor leader, and secretary of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council for more than 30 years, will not seek re-election. A lengthy list of nominees are seeking this post including H. G. Turner, Charles Gilbert, Joseph Cherrington, J. Erickson, and Malcolm Ainslie.

Mr. Williams' resolution Sunday claimed that "present overcrowding conditions in our mental institutions prevent adequate treatment being given to a large number of returned men in these institutions." He claimed that these patients—some 350—had "very little hope of recovery under present circumstances."

HIS RESOLUTION urged that the department of veterans affairs construct a mental institution in this province, for returned men who are at the present time inmates of the provincial institutions. In support of his resolution he repeated arguments he had used in his speech to the Legislature, and denied Friday by Dr. Cross.

Mr. Williams based his remarks on statements taken from reports of Dr. R. B. MacLean, medical superintendent of the Provincial Mental Hospital at Ponoka, and by Dr. W. J. MacAlister, superintendent of the Oliver Institution. He claimed these reports had never been brought to the attention of the Legislature.

HE READ an abstract from a report by Dr. MacLean, where it was claimed Dr. MacLean had said that "overcrowding in the wards is considered so serious that it is recommended that steps be taken to alleviate the situation."

Many accidents had occurred, Dr. MacLean had stated, which were directly resultant from overcrowding.

"In one ward, capacity of which was 44 patients, 144 were accommodated," he claimed. "The ward bed capacity has been increased alright," he said, "but when the patients sleep, they sleep on mattresses rolled out on the floors."

He claimed that patients suffering from tuberculosis were segregated, again because of overcrowding.

SHORTAGE OF STAFF was caused in part, because of low pay, Mr. Williams claimed. "The minister's reply to that was that the maximum salary was $1,800 per year, with $100 per month, with a bonus of cost-of-living grant. But only after 14 years service can a man get the salary of $1,800."

Shortage of staff was responsible, he claimed, for failure to give proper insulin and other treatments.

"Only more buildings, either at different centres, or on the grounds already in possession of the government, can relieve the situation," Mr. Williams claimed.

Shed Is Damaged In Week-End Fire

Water dripping through a shed roof onto some building supplies including unlabeled lime caused firemen to be called out about 7:05 p.m. Sunday. The lime became heated and was throwing off billows of smoke and fumes.

The shed which housed the supplies is located at the rear of 9695 102nd Avenue. The owner Mr. Kuczy of Myran, was out of town and so firemen had to make arrangements for removal of the supplies from the building.

Alleges Inaccurate Statements

Veterans' Member Attacks Minister

Claiming that statements on conditions in provincial mental institutions made Friday in the Legislature by Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of public health, were a "masterpiece of premeditated" inaccuracies, W. J. Williams, M.L.A., executive-secretary of the Montgomery Branch, No. 24, Canadian Legion, spoke Sunday at a legion meeting, in a resolution moved by him, urging that veteran patients in mental hospitals be removed to an institution of their own. The motion passed unanimously. About 400 members attended.

Dr. Cross spoke Friday in denial of charges of overcrowding and shortage of staff made in an earlier speech by Mr. Williams. Dr. Cross at no time, mentioned Mr. Williams by name.

Mr. Williams' resolution Sunday claimed that "present overcrowding conditions in our mental institutions prevent adequate treatment being given to a large number of returned men in these institutions." He claimed that these patients—some 350—had "very little hope of recovery under present circumstances."

HIS RESOLUTION urged that the department of veterans affairs construct a mental institution in this province, for returned men who are at the present time inmates of the provincial institutions. ## The Daily "Spat" Greatest Enemy

The greatest enemy to domestic peace and happiness is not the wolf or the alien. It is the daily spat in which so many married couples indulge and which wrecks more homes, causes more divorces, orphans more children, and breaks more hearts than all the seven deadly sins combined.

There are countless husbands and wives who ruin what should be ideal marriages by their senseless quarrels. With them every word is the fighting word and neither one can make the simplest statement without starting something. They can go to the mat over politics, or religion, or the O.P.A. or the baby's formula, or the new hat of the woman next door. Nothing is too big or too little for them not to get into a hot argument over it, and it ends up with the wife in tears and the husband banging the door behind him as he goes forth to find somebody he can talk to who will yes-yes him.

NOW THERE isn't anyone with even ordinary human intelligence who doesn't know from experience and observation that nothing else on earth is so profitless as the family argument. It never gets anybody anywhere. A woman convinced against her will is of the same opinion still, as the old saw puts it. So is a man.

A husband and wife can scrap from the altar to the divorce court or the grave over each other's little peculiarities and tastes and habits without getting any result except hard feelings and alienation of the affections. Most married couples come, in time, to realize this and the futility of arguing with each other. They see that it is ruining their happiness, but they claim they can't help it; so it will be tidings of great joy to the victims of this pernicious habit to learn that a remedy for it has been found.

It is the WATER CURE. A reader of this column, who has made this momentous discovery and who offers it for free to all married couples afflicted with the arguing complex, says:

"FOR MANY years my wife and I kept ourselves in a turmoil over arguing about trifles about which neither one of us really cared. We had many a midnight quarrel that would leave us sleepless. Finally, we agreed that the next time we had a fuss we would not say a word for five minutes, and we would just drink water until we cooled off. The remedy worked perfectly, and since then we have lived together in such peace and harmony that we are known to all of our acquaintances as the 'sweetheart couple'."

Let not the unbeliever scoff at the WATER CURE. I, for one have perfect faith in its efficacy, for there is nothing else that takes the spark out of the belligerent and humbles the self-assertive like getting dripping wet. No doubt this would apply inwardly as well as outwardly, for no one would care to indulge in a hot argument whose tummy was filled up with ice water. Nothing modifies our opinions like having them wet-blanketed.

We have made a great deal over the invention of the atomic bomb, but surely finding a way to preserve homes is more valuable to the world than discovering a way to blow them up. And so it may come to be that the WATER CURE for arguing will take its place among the great contributions to the morals and morale of our age.

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

ST. PATRICK IN IRELAND
St. Patrick's name is the first and most honored in the history of the Irish people. When he went to Ireland in the fifth century to convert the people to Christianity, the country was largely pagan. The Irish druids worshipped the sun, moon and stars.

Shrine of St. Patrick's Bell, preserved in the National Museum at Dublin. This bell is believed to have been used by St. Patrick to call those to whom he wished to preach.

There were already some Christians before St. Patrick came, but he made all Ireland a Christian nation.

Scotland, Wales and Gaul are each claimed as the birthplace of St. Patrick. He was born of Christian parents in the latter part of the fourth century. When he was about 16, he was brought as a captive to Ireland.

He was compelled to spend six years herding sheep on a mountain in Antrim along the northeast coast of the island. In his own story—"Confession," written in his old age—he says of these years: "I was daily tending the flocks and praying frequently every day that the love of God might be more enkindled in my heart."

The young captive escaped at last and returned to his parents' home. But in his heart and mind and dreams he felt that the Irish were calling him back to preach the Gospel. He left home and began to study for his coming mission. He studied for many years; in fact, he was over 40—perhaps over 50—when he finally set out on his mission.

Landing in Ireland in the year 432, Patrick was a most successful missionary. No blood was shed.

no martyrs made, in the conversion of Ireland. Wherever he went, he turned first to the chiefs and, having won the chiefs, he won the people.

Shortly after he landed, he made his way toward Tara, the capital. The druids were having a festival at which a sacred fire was lighted. There was a rule that no other fire should be lighted at the same time, but Patrick lighted the Paschal fire on the nearby hill of Slane, for it was Easter tide.

The druids asked the high king, Leary, to have the fire extinguished, warning that the kindler might overturn the kingdom. Angriously the monarch sent a number of men to command Patrick to appear before him at Tara. Patrick agreed to do so.

On the road, he and his companions sang a hymn which is now called "The Breastplate of St. Patrick" or "The Deer's Cry." It was uttered in the native language and has become one of the literary treasures of Ireland. Patrick and his companions are said to have taken the shapes of white deer, to avoid treacheries that lurked on the way, due to the unfriendly druids. Hence, "The Deer's Cry" as a title for their song.

At Tara, Patrick explained the Christian creed and won a respectful hearing. Converts were made among the courtiers and, though King Leary himself was not converted, he gave permission to have the Gospel preached throughout the land. Success followed Patrick's footsteps almost everywhere.

One Lenten day, the season of prayer and penance, he went to the top of a lonely mountain in County Mayo, in the west of Ireland, and prayed for the salvation of the Irish people. The mountain still bears his name, and every summer, to this day, there is a morning of pilgrimage to the summit. Visitors from all parts of the world climb the steep slope to commemorate the Patron of Ireland.

In his declining years, Saint Patrick wrote the document which is called his "Confession." It is in Latin and is a clear, simple account of his mission in Ireland. This is preserved in a beautiful Irish book called "The Book of Armagh"—a work which was completed in about the eighth century. St. Patrick died on March 17, some say in the year 460. This day, March 17, is the only national holiday observed in Ireland; and it is widely honored in many other countries, including the United States.

Why Grow Old?

The increased milk consumption might be caused by the liberal use Actress Ellen Drew is making of it while doing her baking.

By Josephine Lowman
I do not know just why I am writing about milk because judging from statistics, practically everyone in the world now drinks it.

In 1945 the average American drank 200 quarts as compared to 160 quarts a decade ago; to say nothing of the butter and cheese and ice cream they ate!

Perhaps the continuing increase in milk consumption is due to the increased understanding of the important part milk plays in good nutrition. It was also, no doubt, speeded up by wartime nutrition programs which educated the public along these lines and by the armed forces where many men were supplied with milk who had not found it so easily available before.

Yet in spite of the programs of instruction in nutrition and the increase in milk sales, there are many men and women and children who do not drink milk, or not enough for best health. This is especially true of adults who often think of milk as a child's necessity only. In the past milk was thought of as luxury food while we now know that in practically no other food do we obtain so many health essentials for so little cost.

Milk is the finest source of calcium, also contains iron and

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred
Every young mother is eager for the moment when her new baby will sleep through the night. It is a hardship to spend from three-fourths to an hour in the middle of the night feeding a hungry but playful baby. She is willing to do this, don't misunderstand me, but she cannot be blamed for wishing that the day would come when the baby would no longer need the fifth bottle.

When mothers ask me: "How can I make my baby sleep through the night?" I understand their need, but know no specific answer. As long as the baby wakes for a night bottle one must suspect that he needs it. The chief influence upon his sleeping will be to make the daytime formula as satisfying as the baby will no longer want nor need this extra night feeding.

There is another allied problem during the time when babies are learning to sleep through the night. Some of them may go suddenly, from six to six or seven to seven, without warning. But vitamins A, B and D and bulks up our protein intake.

Long ago milk was used by women as a beauty aid. The celebrated beauties of that day took milk baths and today it is used in cosmetics.

Several years ago when I interviewed a 111-year-old woman doctor, who was once celebrated for her lectures, and who was amazingly youthful for her years, she told me that she never put anything but cream on her face (cream of milk) for lubricating it, and used only the juice of an orange for cleansing it.

If you wish to improve your nutrition and want direction, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for my leaflet No. 38 "Vitamins in Your Diet" to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

more often the baby sleeps longer and longer after his last daytime feeding, until eventually he is sleeping all night.

During the weeks when he is edging up to that finale he may wake anytime from 3:30 to 5:30 a.m. Naturally, after all those hours asleep, he is ravenous and must be fed. But this starts his daytime schedule off on the wrong foot. It puts his bath and his going-to-bed bottle at peculiar hours.

Not much can be done about this. Sometimes the mother will find that she can hold off the baby for a half hour or an hour at bath-time and get him back on a better schedule. She may find that feeding him at four at night may give him five bottles during the day, adding that eight o'clock bedtime bottle. These changes in schedule should be endured. The baby is showing a tendency to sleep longer and longer and some night, maybe after an increase in his formula or solid foods, he may surprise everyone by sleeping straight through.

The baby who wakes once or more during the night after he is three or four months of age, is one whose diet and formula are seldom as nourishing and satisfying as they should be. Don't blame the baby, then; blame his diet and see that it gets some correction and improvement.

Our leaflet No. 38 "Sleeping

Georgina Thomlison Bride At Holy Trinity Ceremony

In a double ring ceremony at Holy Trinity Church Saturday evening, Georgina Alberta Thomlison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Thomlison of Edmonton and Norman Joseph Walters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walters also of Edmonton were married by the Rev. Canon W. M. Naimby.

Sprays of huckleberry, tied in white ribbon marked the guest news and spring flowers decorated the church.

Abbott "Sympathetic" To Income Tax Drop

MONTREAL, March 17, (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said Saturday "My own sympathies are for reducing personal income taxes, particularly insofar as the lower income brackets are concerned."

Declares Soviet Covets Alaska

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Representative B. W. Gearhart (Rep., Calif.) said Sunday that Russia "is looking at Alaska with covetous eyes."

HE DECLARED that the Soviets contended its purchase by the United States from the Soviet government in 1867 was illegal and demanded that the State Department say whether Moscow is seeking the return of the rich and strategic territory.

Gearhart told a reporter he will raise the question in the House of Representatives Monday in connection with President Truman's program to curb Communist expansion by sending money, materials and experts to Greece and Turkey.

In raising the subject of Alaska, Gearhart declared that "the American people have a right to know what, if any, secret conversations have been held between our diplomats and the Russians on this important problem."

Spiritualists in Britain Won't Try to Contact Hitler's Departed Spirit

By Jack Smyth
LONDON, March 17 (Reuters)—Not one of Britain's recognized 1,000 spiritualists mediums has made or intends to make any effort to make contact with Hitler's departed spirit.

"We believe that the Fuehrer is dead, but the less we have to do with that man even now the better," John Skewert, secretary of the freedom committee of the spiritualist national union, says.

"Many of our 1,000 recognized mediums could make the attempt but it would be for Hitler himself to determine the best avenue of communication and that would undoubtedly be through a close colleague of his own," Skewert added.

"Even if one of our mediums did succeed in contacting him we would want absolute proof such as intimate personal details of his life before publicizing our claim."

"For instance if he were to reveal why he did not invade England it would hardly lend credence to our claim for that could never be checked now."

Some 25 per cent of Britain's population are believers in spiritualism, Skewert said. "A large majority of the newcomers are people who lost relatives in the war, but we also number many prominent personalities among our converts such as politicians and ministers of the church. Few of them, however, admit it openly."

Chinese Rifleman Shoots Down Plane

Say WPTB Tool Of U.S. Interests

TORONTO, March 17, (CP)—The United Electrical Workers Union (CIO-CGL), in a statement issued Sunday charged that the Wartime Prices and Trade Board had become the tool of American interests with heavy capital in Canadian industry. The statement claimed Donald Gordon, chairman of the prices board, was permitting a climb in price levels to meet those in the United States.

"MR. GORDON's arguments for increased prices lack validity," the statement said. "Increased labor costs account for only 1-10th to 1-5th the amount which prices have already risen. Yet at the same time profits have risen to previously unheard of peaks."

Mass Observes Indian Killings

QUEBEC, March 17 (CP)—A full-blooded Iroquois priest celebrated solemn High Mass Sunday on the 29th anniversary of the massacre of two Jesuit missionaries by his savage forefathers.

The tiny chapel of the blessed Canadian martyrs, capable of accommodating about 500 persons, was filled to overflowing as mass was celebrated by Rev. Michel Kathaiont Jacobs of the Society of Jesus.

First Iroquois ordained to the priesthood, Father Jacobs had the support of an Iroquois choir in the mass honoring the Revs. Jean de Brebeuf and Gabriel Lalemant, who were massacred March 16, 1649, at Fort St. Ignace, near the present town of Midland, Ont.

Speed Ups Costs Railway Service

OTTAWA, March 17 (CP)—Modern demand for speed in transportation is sending up the costs of railway service, S. J. W. Liddy, assistant controller of the CPR, declared today before the board of transport commissioners.

TESTIFYING in the railway freight case, Mr. Liddy said this tendency to speed has sharpened the competition against the railways from motor vehicles and other forms of transport.

The result was, he said, that the rail carriers had to provide faster trains, improved trackage and signal systems and other facilities. In the meantime, the witness said, their rates had remained basically unchanged for 25 years.

MR. LIDDY was questioned about the CPR's practice of providing for "additions and betterment" to railway property out of current earnings. This year, the company has laid down an estimate of $15,200,000 under this heading.

The financial official said this system was preferable to raising the money by borrowing, since the latter method would add to the company's carrying charges without a compensating increase in net earnings.

$1,000,000 Fire

CLARKSDALE, Miss., March 17 (AP)—Fire fanned by a strong wind broke out in the annex of the Alcazar Hotel Sunday, and raged the length of a downtown block. Mayor John C. Newman of this town of 19,000 estimated damages at between $750,000 and $1,000,000.

But It Costs Him $19

Long-Lost Sergeant Claims His Nugget

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17, (AP)—A man identifying himself as Theo Elbert told the Associated Press last night he was the former sergeant who grubstaked two Yukon mining brothers, but he appeared skeptical that they had half a gold nugget "big as an Idaho potato" for him.

"I KNOW GOLD MINING GUYS—they talk big," he said. "But I'm going to get in touch with them, just in case, I guess you never can tell."

Elbert, 31, a San Francisco house painter, said he served with the 34th engineers at Dawson, Yukon Territory, and turned over a year's wages to the brothers Peter and Charley Schwerdt as a grubstake.

The reported rich find was made in the Yellowknife area of Canada's Northwest Territories. An Alvin Karp of Chicago saw a newspaper account of how Peter Schwerdt had written the Hotel New Yorker asking help in locating Elbert, and wrote the Associated Press office here in the belief Elbert was a San Francisco man. Karp, who served under Elbert in the Yukon, wrote that Elbert owed him $19.

ELBERT TELEGRAPHED KARP last night, hoping the Chicago man could put him on the trail of the Schwerdt brothers, and promising to pay him the long-overdue $19.
